

The Diary of a Nobody (Excerpts)

By George Grossmith

October 1

To my mind the most significant entry in my diary is the fact that I have been promoted. A slight rise in salary, and a seat in the inner office.

October 2

I find, on looking back at my diary, that I have omitted one or two little matters of interest. I have not mentioned that I have been three times late for the office.
